

10/31/11- Sex in the City: Urban Church Planting

11/2 - Knowing Your City: Contextualized Christianity

11/4 - Urban Idols: Consumerism, Competition & Celebrities

11/7/11 - The Boston Shuffle

In many cities, church plants are simply havens for Christians who are tired of their churches or for new Christians to the city. How can church planters be focused on those who are far from God while avoiding transfer growth?

11/9 - Ecclesiology 101: Why Plant Churches?

11/11- Missional Discipleship: Building a Discipleship Culture

11/14/11 - Tale of Two Cities: City Center or Neighborhoods

Cities are actually a collection of neighborhoods with each neighborhood having its own identity. This post will examine the idea of planting in the center of the city vs. planting in a neighborhood.

11/16 - The Parish Model Part I

11/18 - The Parish Model Part II

11/21/11 - Raising Money and Planting Urban Churches

This post will tackle the two major fiscal models of church planting: 1) Raising an initial large amount or 2) Bi-Vocational. We will then examine a hybrid approach.

11/23/11 - Multiplication and Sustainability

11/25/11 - Givers Give: Fundraising Strategies

11/28/11- Creating a Church Planting Culture

In this final post we will look at what it means to plant churches that plant churches and how we can create a culture of mission over and against a culture of consumerism.

11/30/11 - Core Values vs Core Practices

12/2/11 - A Theology of Work